Community night at Mana is back for one night this month! It's been so fun getting to connect with you all. These are low-key, relaxed evenings with super high quality, local, all organic food & drink. The truth is that local, organic, ingredients are expensive. For us, that's okay because we totally believe in it. AND as much as we value high vibration food and drink, we deeply value community. So every once in awhile we want to offer something more informal and inexpensive in the place we've come to love so much. We do hope you can join us! Please let us know of dietary restrictions ahead of time.

What makes some yoga classes so perfect while others leave you feeling "off"? The difference is often the amount of thought and understanding that goes into planning the postures and the sequence for the practice.

We will discuss a number of tools to aid you in developing sequences to support the postures and intentions for the practice you are creating.

Whether you are an instructor creating class sequences or practicing on your own and developing sequences to meet your own unique goals, this workshop will give you a better understanding of what goes into creating the ideal sequence for a yoga practice.

Get off your mat, stop demonstrating everything and teach with confidence using your voice, eyes, and mind. This workshop will give you a "toolbox" with which to approach teaching yoga so that you can truly see your students and help each student develop his/her practice. When we "demo-teach", we and our students get stuck and our classes become stagnant rather than places of growth and development. If you are already teaching off the mat, get out of "aural ruts" and repetitive language. Breathe fresh air into your classes, push your teaching and your students into a new realm with your new toolbox! Open to those currently teaching, those who hope to teach as well as to any practitioner who would like a framework with which to learn and practice yoga.

Sanskrit can be intimidating and tongue twisting to the beginning yoga teacher and even to students who have been practicing for years. Leave with more confidence to introduce Sanskrit names of poses to your students or use them in your own practice. No previous knowledge or experience required! The focus will be on pronunciation from transliteration of Sanskrit. We will not be learning to read or write Sanskrit Devanagari script.

How are the films this year? Good question. They're on fire! Wait. No... they're... on fleek? No, that's not it either. This year's lineup of films... would blow the doors off a '78 Buick. With an emphasis on the stories, characters and fisheries that help make up the vast world of fly fishing, the 2018 F3T will take you from Michigan to Honduras, from Wyoming to Greenland, from the mind of child to the heart of a musician, from the edge of your seat to the end of the earth and back! The original and preeminent exhibition of fly fishing cinema, The F3T is a one of a kind experience. Each year fishy folk of all ages gather in big cities and small towns alike to soak up films from around the world, spin a few yarns amongst friends and dream about casts yet unmade.
